50X1-HUM

1. The Military Bureau of the State Commission for Economic Planning (PKPG), which is directly responsible to the Ministry of National Defense (MON), controls the entire war industry, including the production of war material, the investment of funds for the development of existing factories, and the building of new ones.
2. The Head of the Military Bureau is Colonel Fryderyk Topolski. The Director of Supply and Investment is E. Szancer. Both of them are engineers.
3. Communication with the Bureau is carried on secretly. For example, letters to the Bureau from the State Optical Factory (PZO) are sent by hand, and letters from the Bureau are transmitted through the postal agency of the Security Police (UB).
4. Factories working under the direction of the Bureau are guarded by armed detachments of the Internal Security Corps (KBW). The premises of the PZO are guarded by thirty-two KBW men and six factory guards. The UB has its own cell in this factory consisting of two rooms with barred windows on the fourth floor. This cell is responsible for the guarding of all factory secrets. No stranger is permitted to enter the production area, and even employees may not move freely from one department to another.
5. On 10 October 1949, at a conference of the Bureau attended by the Chief of Staff, expansion of the PZO was discussed. The present output amounting to 2,800,000 zloty, the same as in 1937, is to be increased to 3,900,000 zloty for military production alone, and 190,000,000 zloty are to be provided for development in 1950.* All plants are to operate in two shifts, and those factories working for the Bureau must be prepared to double their output on short notice.
6. Other subjects discussed at this meeting were:
  - a. The problem of protecting, with the cooperation of the KBW, the factory premises from any subversive groups.

- b. The problem of importing machine tools. The USSR needs all it can get, and since Czechoslovakia must supply all the satellite states, as well as the USSR, deliveries are delayed as much as three years. [REDACTED]

- c. General questions of security and secrecy, with emphasis on the necessity of reporting suspicious activities.

* [REDACTED] Comment: The amounts of 2,800,000 and 8,900,000 zloty seem to be very low, especially when compared with the sum of 190,000,000 zloty to be provided in 1950.
